

Lisbon, Dec 14, 2011. It has been nearly six months since our last postcard, and that's a very long time to be without news! The reason for this "problem" has been "the book." I know: you've heard this excuse before! Well, now the problem has been solved: yesterday I hand-delivered to the printers the PDFs for "Slow Roads! Beautiful Drives Through Portugal for Cars & Motorcycles." If all goes per plans, the book will be commercially available on Dec 21, 2011. For a blurb, see the link below.

As a part of the experience, I ended up creating a US-based LLC, Adamastor Travel. My idea for Adamastor Travel is to be active in travel planning; as a provider of travel-related media content (text and photos); and as a publisher of books and guides. ...One more front for more adventures!!!

Stay tuned. Until the next one. Jorge.
