

Cotonou, Apr 11, 2016 It is hard to believe that we already have five months in our new country... Time flies when you are having fun, and that is certainly our case here in Benin.

Christmas break came and Christmas break went. Filipa and her friend West flew from the US to spend a little bit of time with us. We traveled far and wide around Benin. One of our trips was to Nikki, during their Gaani Festival. What a show! For a few pics from this period follow the two links below.

Shortly after that it was time for Benin's national presidential elections. And I am glad to report to you that all went smoothly, and that Benin now has a new president & a new government. Let me just summarize the whole thing by saying this: I am glad to live in a country in Africa that believes in democratic processes...

Other than that, the intense times in the social front continue... Just the way I love it!!!

Stay tuned. Cheers.

Jorge